Year Threes are learning different comprehension strategies by modelled reading from the teacher with a big book. They then individually work on the reading strategy that they just learnt.